Last Thursday night saw the launch of a partnership between the University of Canberra and the people of Narooma. A very large truck fully equipped with medical students and consulting rooms will soon be parked at the Community Health Centre, as it travels through our district. This long term project is an exciting connection between Narooma and the Canberra University. More on Page 3

LOTS OF HARD WORK AND SOME FUN AS WE OYSTERED ALONG THROUGH THE WEEKEND.

Through wind and rain and power drains we survived the Oyster Festival – with a few snags! Huge congratulations to the organisers and to all who worked hard to make the weekend a success, both in our van and around the festival .

Short words from bob ant

What a busy week we've had!

Thursday night was blessed with two lovely ladies and a great positive story for our community.

Friday night we had to quickly change direction and it went like clockwork, thanks to those involved.

Saturday we battled huge winds and Sunday we were back again.

Thank you all and after that the Markets this week should be a piece of cake ☺

Jane Mac Isaac and Nikki Lucas from the University of Canberra outlined the strategy for the Mobile Health Clinic at the Whale Motel last Thursday.

This exciting project will bring medical students from Canberra to Narooma, using a purpose-built truck.

Following the official launch we were lucky to have Jane and Nikki stay on and join us for dinner and then to give us a presentation on the project.

The mobile clinic will have students from Physiotherapy, Pharmacy, Sport, Physiology, and Midwives.

It is also hoped that the High School students will be encouraged by this program and future students might come from our area.

A young Chinese couple get married.

She's a virgin & they are both waiters.

Truth be told, he is a virgin too, but she doesn't know that.

On their wedding night, she cowers naked under the sheets, as her husband undresses in the darkness. He climbs into bed next to her and tries to be reassuring.

"My darling," he whispers, "I know dis you firss time and you berry flighten. I pomise you, I give you anything you want, I do anything juss anything you want. You juss ask.

Whatchu want?" he says, trying to sound experienced and worldly, which he hopes will impress her.

A thoughtful silence follows, and he waits patiently and eagerly for her request.

She eventually shyly whispers back, "I want to try someting I have heard about from other girls ... Nummaa 69".

More thoughtful silence, but this time from him. Eventually, in a puzzled tone he asks her...

"You want ... Garlic Chicken with corrifrowa?"

From Fred Doctor ... very funny

And still they came... sometimes the queue at the Van was a little overwhelming for the helpers inside.

Thank you to our Friends of Rotary helpers who gave of their time freely and without reserve – many thanks!!
