Lewis Robertson (on right) is given guidance by Ian and Laurelle.

Lewis Robertson from Narooma High School gave us a quick talk on his aspirations for studies and life as he applies for a Science School. It is extremely difficult to be selected, but with our support he may be able to be successful. Last Thursday also saw the final board meeting for this year and the introduction of the new board, the old with the addition of Charmaine White.

Short words from bob ant

As I write this, two important countdowns are happening. My niece and her daughter arrive in Sydney on Thursday morning. Its' been 26 years since I've seen my niece and I have never met her 17 year old daughter. The second is to the final night as President of this great Club and the handing over of the reigns to John. Both will come together as my niece will be here with us as I finish my year. To all I must say thank you but most of all, I must thank Merinda. The support and back up of one's partner is amazing when doing a job like this. See you at the Changeover!

A BIG thank you to all who came and helped out at the Markets. Lyn Hardingham, a great friend of Rotary, and George a wonderful chef were among our friends who made this a successful raising of $1100.

From the board meeting.

The Presidents ideas for disbursements was accepted. The finances are strong. The arrangements for Tim, our exchange student, are falling in to place. Jeremy asked about allowances for both the student and host families. This was answered by John this week. Our PR profile has been positive.

Snapshot of people's perception of Rotary:

- I don't think I'd be welcome at Rotary – I think it's only for experienced professionals (22 year old male) – maybe more an organisation of my grandparents generation.
- I don't know what Rotary is (26 year old female)
- It's an organisation for older people (29 year old male)
- Older people. Overseas voluntary projects. Sausage sizzles at Bunning's. (30 year old female)
- Golden Wheel is the image and access to grants is all I know about them.... (32 year old female)
